

Paul Trainor, founder of Nucleus and father of Australia's medical device industry.

Graeme Clark with the first commercial multi-channel cochlear implant. Source: The Graeme Clark slide and photo collection at the NLA.

Jim Patrick, a key driver of the Cochlear implant project from 1974 to the present.

David Money, a brilliant engineer and the first CEO of Cochlear.

Left to right: Jim Patrick, David Money and Mike Hirshorn.

Leo Port, one of Cochlear's first employees, who was responsible for the manufacture of the external components.

Ron West, first CEO of Cochlear in the USA.