

References

Reptile studies in the Murray catchment

- Cunningham RB, Lindenmayer DB, Crane M, Michael DR and MacGregor CI (2007) Reptile and arboreal marsupial response to replanted vegetation in agricultural landscapes. Ecological Applications 17: 609–619.
- Daly G (2004) Surveys of reptiles and amphibians on the south-west slopes of New South Wales. Herpetofauna 34 (1): 2–6.
- DLWC (2001) New South Wales Murray Catchment Pre-European Broad Vegetation Types. Department of Land and Water Conservation, Canberra, Australia.
- Herring M (2003) 'Biodiversity in the billabong: a wildlife survey of the Eastern Billabong Creek catchment'. Unpublished report for Heartlands: CSIRO, Murray-Darling Basin Commission and the Eastern Billabong Landcare Groups.
- Herring M (2005) 'Murrakool wildlife: magnificent diversity, precarious future'. Murrakool Inc.
- Herring M, McGregor H, Herring J, Webb D and Knight A (2008) 'West Corugan wildlife'. Murray Catchment Management Authority and Murray Wildlife Pty Ltd.
- Herring M, McGregor H, Herring J, Webb D and Knight A (2008) 'Central Riverina wildlife'. Murray Catchment Management Authority and Murray Wildlife Pty Ltd.
- Herring M, McGregor H, Webb D and O'Donnell D (2008) 'Restoration of the Jimaringle and Cockran Creek system'. Murray Wildlife Pty Ltd and Murray Irrigation Limited.
- Herring M, Webb D and Pisasale M (2007) 'Murray wildlife – Murray land & water management plan wildlife survey 2005–2006'. Murray Wildlife Pty Ltd and Murray Irrigation Limited.
- Lemckert F (1998) A survey of threatened herpetofauna of the south-west slopes of New South Wales. Australian Zoologist 30: 492–500.
- Michael DR (2004) Distribution, habitat preferences and conservation status of reptiles in the Albury-Wodonga region. The Victorian Naturalist 121 (5): 180–193.
- Michael DR (2005) A record of the exotic Asiatic house gecko Hemidactylus frenatus being transported to Albury, New South Wales. Herpetofauna 35 (2): 101–102.