

Chapter 7: Bats in history and in our lives today

This Arnhem Leaf-nosed Bat is very similar to the Diadem Leaf-nosed Bat from the coastal tropical forests of northern Queensland. The two species have been separated by the Gulf Country long enough for them to become separate species.