Membership: Any person interested in avian biology may become a member of the Cooper Ornithological Society. Regular membership rates (which include both online and print versions of The Condor) are US$80 per year in select countries (United States, Canada, Western Europe, Iceland, Australia, New Zealand, Israel, Japan, Republic of Korea, and Taiwan), $25 per year in all other countries, $55 for student members, $30 for emeritus members, $100 for families. Individuals may opt to receive only the online version for a reduced membership rate of $40 per year, $25 for student members. If applying for student rates, include a brief, signed statement from an academic advisor certifying student status. North American members also receive the bimonthly Ornithological Newsletter. All correspondence regarding membership, including dues payments and changes of address, should go to Ornithological Societies of North America (OSNA), 5400 Bosque Blvd., Suite 680, Waco, TX 76710, or business@osnabirds.org

Publications: The Condor is a quarterly journal devoted to the biology of wild species of birds. It publishes research reports, review articles, and commentary. Contributors should refer to the Instructions for Authors published in the February issue and on the Cooper Ornithological Society website, www.cooper.org. The Condor (ISSN 0010-5422, e-ISSN 1938-5129) is published quarterly (February, May, August, November) by the University of California Press, Journals and Digital Publishing, for the Cooper Ornithological Society. Periodicals postage paid at Berkeley, CA, and additional mailing offices. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to The Condor, University of California Press, Journals and Digital Publishing, 2000 Center Street, Suite 303, Berkeley, CA 94704-1223.

Manuscripts: to David S. Dobkin, Editor, The Condor, High Desert Ecological Research Institute, 15 SW Colorado Avenue, Suite 300, Bend, OR 97702, USA.

Books for review: to David L. Swanson, Biology Department, University of South Dakota, Vermillion, SD 57069, e-mail: dlswanso@usd.edu

Studies in Avian Biology, a series of works too long for the journal, is published at irregular intervals. Manuscripts: to Carl D. Marti, Editor, Studies in Avian Biology, 1310 East Jefferson Street, Boise, ID 83712, e-mail: sab@spro.net

Subscriptions: Institutional subscriptions are $220 (print and electronic) and $198 (electronic only). $20 postage added to all subscriptions shipped outside North America. Canadian subscribers, add 5% GST. Single copies are $57 for institutions and non-member individuals. $5 postage added to single copies shipped outside North America. Go to <http://www.ucpressjournals.com> for single issue and subscription orders, back issue orders, claims information, and advertising inquiries for the journal.

Copying and permissions notice: Authorization to copy article content beyond fair use (as specified in Sections 107 and 108 of the U.S. Copyright Law) for internal or personal use, or the internal or personal use of specific clients, is granted by the Regents of the University of California on behalf of the Cooper Ornithological Society for libraries and other users, provided that they are registered with and pay the specified fee through the Copyright Clearance Center (CCC), www.copyright.com. To reach the CCC's Customer Service Department, dial 978-750-8400 or write to 222 Rosewood Drive, Danvers, MA 01923. Publishing new research from the full spectrum of ornithology since 1899.

THE CONDOR ONLINE: Access the Cooper Ornithological Society's website, <www.cooper.org>, to find Tables of Contents and Abstracts for issues from February 2001 through the forthcoming issue, in English and Spanish. The COS website also provides prospective authors with current instructions for authors.

COVER: Remarkably similar plumage patterns often appear in distantly related taxa. Riegner (p. 599) examined the recurrence of plumage-pattern elements across class Aves and their association with morphological features, such as body size and degree of anterior emphasis. He found that streaks and countershading are common in small taxa, but bold patterning, elements of reverse countershading, and exaggerated anterior morphology often appear in relatively large morphotypes, as exemplified in the White-necked Raven (Corvus albicollis), among the largest of corvids.
