

CLUB ANNOUNCEMENTS

Author: Storey, Chris

Source: Bulletin of the British Ornithologists' Club, 144(3) : 189-190

Published By: British Ornithologists' Club

URL: <https://doi.org/10.25226/bboc.v144i3.2024.a1>

BioOne Complete (complete.BioOne.org) is a full-text database of 200 subscribed and open-access titles in the biological, ecological, and environmental sciences published by nonprofit societies, associations, museums, institutions, and presses.

Your use of this PDF, the BioOne Complete website, and all posted and associated content indicates your acceptance of BioOne's Terms of Use, available at www.bioone.org/terms-of-use.

Usage of BioOne Complete content is strictly limited to personal, educational, and non - commercial use. Commercial inquiries or rights and permissions requests should be directed to the individual publisher as copyright holder.

BioOne sees sustainable scholarly publishing as an inherently collaborative enterprise connecting authors, nonprofit publishers, academic institutions, research libraries, and research funders in the common goal of maximizing access to critical research.

Bulletin of the BRITISH ORNITHOLOGISTS' CLUB

Vol. 144 No. 3

Published 2 September 2024

CLUB ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are delighted that the next meeting of the Club on Saturday 21 September 2024, in conjunction with the regional bird clubs, will also be in association with and in support of the Natural History Museum's outstanding current exhibition Birds: brilliant and bizarre. The talks will be held in the Flett Theatre, at the Natural History Museum, Cromwell Road, London; those attending should access the museum via the Exhibition Road entrance. The day starts at 10.00 h and the speakers include Kevin Cox (Chair of the Royal Society for Protection of Birds' Council), Ken Norris (Director of Science, Natural History Museum), Juliet Vickery (CEO British Trust for Ornithology), Hazell Shokellu Thompson (African Bird Club), Joe Tobias (Neotropical Birding and Conservation) and Nigel Collar (BirdLife International). A full programme is available at: <https://www.nhm.ac.uk/our-science/study/events/british-ornithologists-club-annual-meeting.html>. The event is ticketed but free to attend; you can apply for tickets (which are limited by the venue's capacity) on a first-come-first served basis via the link indicated. We hope to see as many of you as possible on the day.

Since its earliest days, the Club's programme of talks has been a core activity, not only bringing members together but latterly, via YouTube, reaching a worldwide audience. Since at least 2010 Robert Prŷs-Jones has been responsible for the programme, finding outstanding contributors covering an impressive range of topics, even during the pandemic years. However, Robert decided at the end of last year that it was time to hand on the role to someone else. The Club is greatly indebted to him for all his hard work and for establishing a benchmark of excellence.

Chris Storey, Chairman

Avian Odyssey 2024
Birds: Brilliant & Bizarre

Special Partner of The Royal Society for the Protection of Birds (RSPB)

a journey into the wonderful world of birds with leading conservationists and ornithologists with a full day of inspiring talks at the Natural History Museum

Saturday 21 Sep 2024
Flett Theatre (Exhibition Road Entrance),
Natural History Museum, Cromwell Road, London, SW7 5BD

 Natural History Museum

Natural History Museum (NHM) & British Ornithologists' Club (BOC)

10:00 - 10:20 -- Doors open.

Natural History Museum (NHM) & British Ornithologists' Club (BOC)

Friends of the BOC

The BOC has since 2017 become an online organisation without a paying membership, but instead one that aspires to a supportive network of Friends who share its vision of ornithology—see: <http://boc-online.org/>. Anyone wishing to become a Friend of the BOC and support its development should pay UK£25.00 by standing order or online payment to the BOC bank account:

Barclays Bank, 16 High Street, Holt, NR25 6BQ, Norfolk
 Sort Code: 20-45-45
 Account number: 53092003
 Account name: The British Ornithologists' Club

Friends receive regular updates about Club events and are also eligible for discounts on the Club's Occasional Publications. It would assist our Treasurer, Richard Malin (e-mail: rmalin21@gmail.com), if you would kindly inform him if you intend becoming a Friend of the BOC.

The Bulletin and other BOC publications

Since volume 137 (2017), the Bulletin of the BOC has been an online journal, published quarterly, that is available to all readers without charge. Furthermore, it does not levy any publication charges (including for colour plates) on authors of papers and has a median publication time from receipt to publication of five to six months. Prospective authors are invited to contact the Bulletin editor, Guy Kirwan (GMKirwan@aol.com), to discuss future submissions or look at <http://boc-online.org/bulletin/bulletin-contributions>. Back numbers up to volume 136 (2016) are available via the Biodiversity Heritage Library website: www.biodiversitylibrary.org/bibliography/46639#/summary; vols. 132–136 are also available on the BOC website: <http://boc-online.org/>

BOC Occasional Publications are available from the BOC Office or online at info@boc-online.org. Future BOC-published checklists will be available from NHBS and as advised on the BOC website. As its online repository, the BOC uses the British Library Online Archive (in accordance with IZCN 1999, Art. 8.5.3.1).

